Reproduced content. The records below are a forensic copy of the location data set returned by Snaplee Inc. (location services) under International Production Order / MLA - IPA 2016 Pt 3, rendered to read as the Snap Map presented it. The map panel is an illustrative placeholder only - no live map tile or imagery is reproduced. LOCATION PINGS - RETURNED DATA SET

KEY LOCATION OF INTEREST	Stannon Field (the Stones), Drakewalls Lane, nr Tavistock
CRITICAL WINDOW	23:45-00:40, 12-13 Jun 2026

TIME (GMT)	REPORTED LOCATION	LATITUDE / LONGITUDE	ACCURACY	SOURCE
12 Jun 21:18	Lay-by, Drakewalls Lane (the gathering)	50.5360, -4.0930	±26 m	GPS
12 Jun 22:34	Field gate, Drakewalls Lane	50.5362, -4.0915	±21 m	GPS
12 Jun 23:48	Stannon Field (the Stones), Drakewalls Lane, nr Tavistock	50.5365, -4.0900	±12 m	GPS
12 Jun 23:50 - 13 Jun 00:38	Ghost Mode - no location shared	-	-	-
13 Jun 00:41	9 Pixon Lane, Tavistock (home address)	50.5505, -4.1430	±25 m	GPS + Wi-Fi

Analyst's note - the highlighted ping at 23:48 places @megan.vosper within ±12 m of Stannon Field (the Stones), Drakewalls Lane, nr Tavistock - the scene - inside the pathologist's death window for the deceased. This contradicts the account that the subject left the gathering about 22:30 and walked straight home. The location share then ceased ("Ghost Mode") for the 48 minutes spanning the offence (23:50 to 00:38) and resumed only at 00:41, by which time the account was back at the home address. The deliberate gap, the tight accuracy radius of the 23:48 fix, and the arrangement to meet the deceased at this exact spot (Snapchat production, Exhibit OT/8) place @megan.vosper at the locus at the material time.

BASE MAPPING - PLOTTED LOCATION OF THE 23:48 FIX

The returned coordinates for the highlighted 23:48 ping are plotted below over open-source base mapping of the locus on the western edge of Dartmoor, near Tavistock. The pin marks Stannon Field ("the Stones"); base mapping is illustrative and reproduced under the OpenStreetMap licence.
